lu - jah! Halle - lu - jah!

You hold your lamp beside the door –
through silent lips you call the poor
To come to you to breathe the air of freedom.
The tempest tossed, the thrown away,
Your beacon casts a golden ray – your harbor is the dream in Hallelujah!

[Chorus]
Hallelujah, Hallelujah Hallelujah, Hallelujah

Through borders passed and deserts crossed
They see your silent words aloft
And hope the people follow what they promised
For those who find a legal door
Their lives are lived inside the law - they found a pathway to a Hallelujah!

[Chorus]
Hallelujah, Hallelujah Hallelujah, Hallelujah

But many more still live unsure, fearful that they won't endure
And taste the justice that your words have told them
A beacon yet you stand alone
Your lamp a symbol that has shown that hope can turn into hallelujah.

[Chorus - Repeated]
Hallelujah, Hallelujah Hallelujah, Hallelujah
